The equine management system helps stud farms manage the data associated with each individual horse. Whether the horse is breeding, visiting or training, the system keeps track of where they are and who they are owned by.

The EMS system caters for Sundry costs per horse as well as vet bills and visits. The system has a covering schedule that keeps track of the mares to be covered and who the covering stallion will be. The Farrier, de-worming and vaccinations are captured, and reminders can be set to help you keep track of which horses are due for treatment.

The system reports on race earnings per horse as well as efficiency reports and full horse details. Additional reports can be created to cater for your operational needs.
